

The image is a horizontal composite. The left half shows a close-up of a brick wall made of reddish-brown bricks with a weathered, aged appearance. The bricks are laid in a standard running bond pattern. The right half shows a garden path paved with the same reddish-brown bricks. The path is flanked by green shrubs and several large, round planters filled with bright yellow flowers. In the background, a house with a porch is visible.

Old English Brick